About Us

The Fulbright program is sponsored by the U.S. Department of State Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs and provides funding for students, scholars, teachers, and professionals to undertake graduate study, advanced research, university teaching, and teaching in elementary and secondary schools. The Graduate School, Honors Collegium and Office of International Affairs work together at Ohio State to administer the Fulbright program.

The Fulbright-Hays Faculty Research Abroad Program, which is administered by the U.S. Department of Education, provides grants to colleges and universities to fund faculty to maintain and improve their area studies and foreign language skills by conducting research in other countries for periods of three to 12 months.

Over the past 10 years, 277 Ohio State faculty members and students have received Fulbright awards. Ohio State also has been privileged to host 309 foreign Fulbright fellows, who have used the wealth of resources on campus to further their research and education.

On Monday, April 26, a private reception will be held in the new Ohio Union to honor past Fulbright awardees, and to recognize this year’s recipients and finalists for their achievement and promise. We are honored to have such a high number of student and faculty Fulbright and Fulbright-Hays award winners, and hope that the festivities of Fulbright Week will generate the interest of many future recipients. A full list of the week’s activities can be found online at fulbright.osu.edu.
