

Fostering Innovation in Education is open to all Ohio educators and community members interested in international issues, world cultures and languages, and local and global resources to enhance teacher preparation and student success in the global knowledge economy. Keynote presenters and experts from education, business and community organizations will share innovative practices and local and global resources for teaching and learning. Learn, network and collaborate with educators and community representatives statewide at this two-day Global Teacher Institute.

Cost: $50.00 for both days • Graduate Credit will be available for an additional cost
