- No  - Yes, and it was approved*  - Yes, but it was denied*

*Any time the Department of State has recommended to the Department of Homeland Security that a waiver of INA 212(e) be granted, the J-1 student is no longer eligible to extend the DS-2019.
Section 2: To Be Completed by the Academic Advisor

I, the academic advisor of the above named student, consider my advisee to be a full-time student making normal progress toward a degree. I support his/her request for program extension.

Please check the appropriate box and provide a letter of explanation with this form that justifies the reason why the student has not yet completed the current program of study, provides evidence that the student is making academic progress and includes a plan detailing how degree requirements will be completed.

☐ Delay caused by a change in the major field of study  ☐ Delay caused by a change in research topic  ☐ Delay caused by unexpected research problems  ☐ Delay caused by documented medical problems

Expected Semester and Year of Graduation:

☐ Autumn __________  ☐ Spring __________  ☐ Summer __________

☐ End of Semester Option (Graduate Students Only): Do not select this option if you are planning to graduate using the regular semester graduation deadlines. For immigration purposes, students participating in the university-recognized End of Semester option will have an official program end date reflecting the End of Semester deadline established by the Graduate School, which is typically the last business day prior to the start of the next semester (SP15: 5/8, SU15: 8/24, AU15: 1/8, SP16: 5/6)

I, the academic advisor of the above named student, am aware that U.S. immigration regulations do not permit program extensions due to delays caused by financial difficulties, academic probation or suspension, and I recommend that this student be allowed additional time to complete his/her studies.

Program Extension Important Information

F-1 and J-1 students are admitted to the United States for "D/S" (duration of status). Duration of status refers to the period of time that a student is pursuing a full course of study, plus any training authorized following completion of the course of study.

The Form I-20 or DS-2019 lists the date that the University expects students to complete their program of study. Students who are unable to complete their program of study by the expected completion date must apply for an extension.

Students are eligible for an extension only if they continuously have maintained lawful F-1/J-1 status and are able to verify that there were legitimate academic or medical problems which caused the delay. Such problems are defined by US immigration regulations as matters such as change of major or research topic, unexpected research problems, or a documented illness. Academic problems such as being placed on probation or suspension are not cause for an extension of stay.

If a student neglects to extend his or her Form I-20 or DS-2019 in a timely manner, then the student is in violator of their non-immigrant status and may jeopardize the continuation of his or her program of study. This form must be submitted at least one semester prior to the expiration date listed on your current Form I-20/DS-2019, along with proof of financial support for the time period that you are requesting the extension for. If the immigration coordinator determines that an extension is warranted, a new Form I-20 or DS-2019 will be issued. We may request additional documentation if needed
