The Office of International Affairs selected 25 students this year to be awarded a Wolfe Study Abroad Scholarship. This scholarship was established by John F. Wolfe, chairman and CEO of The Dispatch Printing Company, and has been given annually since 1999. The scholarship is the cornerstone of Ohio State's study abroad programs and helps enhance the educational experience to Ohio State students. Students will be recognized at a luncheon this week by President E. Gordon Gee and Wolfe.

The financial support provided by the Wolfe Study Abroad Scholarships has changed the lives of a growing number of students who have had the opportunity to participate in quarter or summer-long study abroad programs. Twenty-five scholarships, in the amount of $2,000 each, are awarded each year.

"These scholarships have helped the university attract those students seeking ways to enrich their academic program through international experience," said Dieter Wanner, interim associate provost of international affairs. "Studying abroad enables students to gain a sense of independence, become more confident, and acquire valuable skills in preparation for today's job market."

To receive the scholarship, students must:

- Be a full-time student of sophomore, junior, or senior rank.
- Have a minimum overall GPA of 2.75.
- Be an Ohio resident who has graduated from an Ohio high school.
- Be admitted to an Ohio State approved quarter/summer-long study abroad program.
